LESTER BRYANT MONUMENT FUND

Below is a Letter Received Here
By The Marion Bank From
Commissioner of Agriculture,
J. W. Newman

Marion Bank, Marion, Ky.
You have, no doubt, read of the death at Washington, D. C.
of Lester Bryant, Boy Champion Corn Grower of Kentucky. He grew 148 bu. 55 lbs. on one acre
at the least cost price of any boy in the United States. His untimely death is an irreparable loss to his family, his friends, and the agricultural interests of the State. The Department of Agriculture of Kentucky wishes to see erected to his memory an appropriate monument. To this end we have purchased the corn he grew upon this acre, from which 50 bu. will be sold at $1.
per ear, delivered by Parcels Post to the purchaser. Will you aid in this undertaking by selling some ears of this corn, sending us the names and addresses of purchasers, and the money you receive for same? If we can put this corn an ear at a place
throughout the State, the Lester Bryant strain of corn will be one monument to him, and a granite shaft at Bowling Green will be another. Any assistance you can render will be appreciated.
No one gets a cent out of raising this money, as the service is a voluntary one. Each dollar received will be deposited to the
Lester Bryant Monument Fund,
Farmers Bank, Frankfort, Ky.
Send the money direct to the department of Agriculture, at Frankfort, and be sure the name and Post-office address of purchaser is given in order to insure delivery of corn.

Thanking you for your co-operation in this project, I beg to remain,

Yours Very truly,
J. W. Newman.
Commissioner of Agriculture.

Judge Nunn Improved.

Judge T. J. Nunn's friends here, and they are legion, were delighted to see him on the streets Thursday, he having just arrived from Frankfort, making the trip unattended. As he had only recently returned from St.
Petersburg, Fla., where he was thought to be quite ill, it was of course gratifying to the folks here at his old home to see and know that he was able to travel
alone and looking quite well.

Card of Thanks.

First we want to thank Dr.
Gordon, A. M. D. D., pastor of the M. E. Church South for the excellent sermon he preached for us on last Sunday 3:00 p. m.
Second, we want to thank Messrs. Yates Bros. and Guess
for the beautiful vocal quartet rendered.

Third we want to thank our white friends for coming out in such a large number and helping us in our rally, also each one that helped us with presence and subscription and contribution.

We had flattering success on last Sunday afternoon, thanking both white and colored for their help.

Respt.
W. W. Atchison, pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jones and little daughter, Helen Tate, spent Sunday in Repton.

Mrs. Wm. Yates and little son, of Marion, spent from Friday
until Monday here, assisting her husband in the music for the revival. She was the guest of Mrs. J. B. Slaton while in the city.

Miss Hazel Pollard, of Marion,
was the guest of Mrs. A. L.
Berry several days last week, returning home Monday. She rendered valuable assistance in the revival music with her flute.

In Memory.

On the 19th day of Jan. 1913,
Little Dennie Dean Franklin
was called from the home of his parents here below, up to the Heavenly Home. His stay here was but a very short one, only the little span of twenty eight months, but it was once filled with sunshine; Like the sweet flowers and singing of birds was this precious child in the room
of his sick father; when he left them it was only that they could see him afar, and hear his darling voice calling "Father and Mother" to join him and little Brother over there, where sin sickness and death are unknown.
Let us lift up our eyes and behold yon bright Home, where we shall soon meet our loved and lost.

We wept—twas Nature wept,
but Faith
Can pierce beyond the gloom
of death,
And in yon world, so far and
bright,
Behold Thee in refulgent light;
We miss thee here, yet faith
would rather Know thou art with thy heavenly Father.
But thou art gone! not lost,
but flown;
Shall I then ask thee back, my
own,
Back-and leave thy heavenly Father?
Back-to earth and sin?—Nay;
rather
Would I live in solitude!
I would not ask thee if I could;
But patient wait the high decree,
That calls my spirit home to thee! T. C. C.

Birthday Social.

Sunday, March 9, 1913, Miss Ruby Terry celebrated her 14th birthday at her home on south College street, by giving a birthday social and entertained a number of her friends from 2
until 5 o'clock p. m. At 4 o'clock the guests were taken to the dining room, where refreshments were served, consisting of sandwiches, pickles, pie, jelo, cake and candy.

Those who were invited, were Misses Nellie Stone, Mary Wilson, Lillie Dunn, Katherine Reed, Louise Doss, Marjorie Paris,
Geneva Daniel, Virginia Rochester, Marie Hughes and Imogene Minner.

The afternoon was pleasantly spent, and all seemed to have a jolly good time and all hearts seemed happy. When the hour came to leave for their homes all testified to having spent the best time of their lives and saying it would long be remembered by each and every one.

TOBACCO

Now Moving—Stemming District,
Farmers' Union And Independents All Receiving.

Monday about one hundred wagon loads of tobacco were received at the three houses which opened for business. At the Stemming District Association
factory B. L. Wilborn and T. J.
Woody were busy looking after the tobacco deliveries there; at the Farmers' Union factory A.
J. McMullen was on hand to receive and D. N. Kemp to grade, but some friction arose there Tuesday which was settled amicably, before we went to press at noon Wednesday and deliveries will go on as usual.
At the Independent warehouse
where S. T. Dupuy holds forth, every thing was running as smooth as a river and an immense lot of tobacco was received, more than at both of the other factories put together.

Best known Cough Remedy.

For forty-three years Dr. King's New Discovery has been known throughout the world as the most re-

Sunday School Teachers

Training Class.

What makes a successful Sunday School? There is but one answer, the teacher, whose duty
it is to import bible knowledge and therefore mold character in the right manner. If this is the teacher's duty. Are we prepared for such work? If not, are we willing to make use of opportunities afforded us for better preparation?

Doubtless the majority of teachers feel that they would like to give their pupils a systematic and connected knowledge of the bible this cannot be done by studying the Lesson Helps only—
but a great many fear to begin,
because they have not had the proper training themselves and are not sure what steps to take.

"Training for Service" will help any one who studies the work closely. Its aim is to give plans, to enable the teacher to get and hold the general sweep of bible history. It also enables him to learn something of child nature, not only will it benefit the teacher but it will give the pupil a clearer understanding of the bible than he has ever had.
This work is both practical and helpful; besides, bible study possesses a new charm when done systematically.

There is to be an effort made by the Sunday School workers to organize a Teacher's Training Class in every school in the county. All who are interested in Sunday School work, please think over this matter carefully and prayerfully and when you are asked to help, we hope you will have decided you owe it to your self and your school to join a class.

GOVERNOR JAM- ES B. M'CREARY

Not Yet Ready to Announce His Candidacy For The United States Senate, But
He May Run.

Governor James B. McCreary
passed through Lexington yesterday morning at 11:40 o'clock
over the Chesapeake & Ohio railway, enroute from Frankfort to Washington to attend the inauguration of President-elect Wilson. His last statement before his train pulled out of the Lexington Union Station was that he has not yet decided whether he will become a candidate for the United States Senate.

During the ten minutes his train waited here, Governor Mc-Creary and his secretary, Francis B. Douglas, the only person accompanying the Governor, talked with several friends who met the train at the station.
Asked by a representative of The Herald if he had decided to announce his candidacy for the United States Senate, Governor
McCreary said:

"No, I have not decided. The fact is that I have been so busy making appointments and attending to other business that I have not had time to think about my own political affairs."

"It's been a long time since I saw a democrat inaugurated
President of the United States," Governor McCreary said, "and I want to get to Washington in time to attend all of the ceremonies. I will be back at my office in the Capital the latter part of next week."

The Governor looked to be in his usual good health, and moved about so actively that his regret at the elimination of the inaugural ball might easily be imagined.—Lexington Herald.

FALLS SEVENTEEN FLOORS; CALMLY LIGHTS CIGAR.

Asks For Ambulance to Take Him to Hospital.

New York, March 4.—John B. Brunnon, a marble worker fell from the seventeenth floor of the Municipal Building to the bottom of an elevator shaft yesterday and treated his experience so lightly that those who ran to his aid found him lighting a cigar and casually inquiring if an ambulance could be summoned.

Much shorter falls have taken scores of lives in recent skyscraper buildings, but Brunnon was saved from being dashed to pieces because he landed on a bundle of empty bags.

He suffered fractures of the leg bones and a slight scalp wound but will recover.

America Third in Mountain Heights.

Since the discovery of Mount McKinley in Alaska, North America has ranked third among the continents in the matter of height of mountains. Asia has Mount Everest, of the Himalayas 29,002 feet above sea level, and South America has Mount Aconcagua, of the Andean system, 23,080 feet in height. North America comes next with Mount McKinley, 20,300 feet, and Africa is fourth, with Kibo Peak, 19,320 feet in height. Mount Blanc, Europe's highest mountain, is 15,782 feet in height, which is higher by more than a thousand feet than any mountain in the United States, exclusive of Alaska.

Congressman Fowler's Disgraceful Sanction.

We note with regret that our honored and illustrious congressman, together with seven other congressmen of whose standing we can judge by the position they took recently, voted against a law which had for its object the prevention of intermarriage between whites and blacks.

Our own congressman Fowler pointedly says by this act of his that he does not care if some common harlot, dazzled by the display of the wealth of some Ethiop., marries him and flaunts the shame of it in the face of every decent woman in the United States, white or black, an occurrence which has only recently transpired in the great state of Illinois; that he doesn't care for white degenerates taking to wife the dregs of the colored race, and thus propagating their own stock; that if this blight on civilization is checked it must be done over his protest, that he is not a debtor to common decency and not being charitably inclined he will lend it no aid.

Our Democratic friends have severely criticised Congressman Fowler, and we have hitherto held aloof, because we do not wish to join in a family row, but on this occasion we join with them in sweet accord. Give him h—ll.—Eldorado Journal.

Sahara Heat May be Used for Fuel.

London, March 11.—The utilization of the Sahara Desert as a heat producing center for industries is a suggestion made by Mr. J. Astley Cooper in a paper on Northern Nigeria read before the Royal Colonial Institute.

It has almost been accepted as a truism, he said, that our coal supplies are giving out, but the Sahara Desert receives an amount of solar heat every day equivalent to that produced by 6,000,000,000 tons of coal; and in this arid region, with great supplies of products available from the wonderful forest land nearer to the coast, and the country traversed by a network of railways, thoughtful scientific men say that if some economical method can be found to utilize this lost solar energy there is no reason why the factories of the future, factories enormous in extent, with glass chambers instead of chimneys, and alectors instead of furnaces all designed to receive and transmit the daily gift of the sun's heat should not be established there.

WILSON HONORED BY FINE PARADE

New President Reviews Immense Inaugural Procession.

AVENUE A GLORIOUS SIGHT

General Wood, Grand Marshal—Veterans, National Guard and Civilians in Line—Indiana Add Touch of Picturesque.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington, March 4.—Woodrow Wilson, as ex-president of Princeton, rode down Pennsylvania avenue today, and later rode up the same avenue as president of the United States, and as the highest officer of government a few minutes thereafter reviewed the multitudes of soldiers and civilians which, with playing bands and flying flags, marched by to give him proper official and personal honor.

For several nights Pennsylvania avenue has been a glory of light. Today it was a glory of color, movement and music. Here are 300,000 inhabitants of the city of Washington. Its temporary population is nearer the half million mark. The absentees from the flanking lines of the parade were mostly the policemen, who were given orders to protect the temporarily vacated residences of the capital.

Woodrow Wilson asked that "Jeffersonian simplicity" be observed in all things which had to do with his inauguration. The command for Jeffersonian simplicity seems to be susceptible to elastic construction. There was nothing savoring of courts or royalty, but there was evidence in plenty that the American people love uniforms and all kinds of display which can find a place within the limits of democratic definition. It was a good parade and a great occasion generally.

Throughs Vociferous With Joy. The inhibition of the inaugural ball and of the planned public reception at the capitol had no effect as a bar to the attendance at this ceremony of changing presidents. Masses were here to see, and other masses were here to march. There was a greater demonstration while the procession was passing than there was four years ago. Victory had come to a party which had known nothing like victory for a good many years. The joy of possession found expression in steady and abundantly noisy acclaim.

President Taft and President-elect Wilson were escorted down the avenue by the National Guard troop of cavalry of Essex county, New Jersey. The carriage in which rode Vice-President-elect Marshall and President pro tempore Bacon of the United States senate was surrounded by the members of the Black Horse troop of the Culver Military academy of Indiana. This is the first time in the history of inaugural ceremonies that a guard of honor has escorted a vice-president to the scene of his oath taking.

Escorting the President-Elect to White House at a Previous Inauguration.

America rode in this division. Their pink coats and their high hats apparently were not thought to jar "Jeffersonian simplicity" from its seat. Pink coats were worn on the hunting field in Jefferson's day and in Jefferson's state.

There were 1,000 Princeton students in the civic section of the parade. Many of them wore orange and black sweaters and they were somewhat noisy though perfectly proper. Students from seventeen other colleges and universities were among the marchers.

Spectators Cheer Constantly. All along Pennsylvania avenue, from the capitol to a point four blocks beyond the White House, the spectators were massed in lines ten deep. The cheering was constant and Woodrow Wilson cannot complain that the ceremonies attending his induction into office were not accompanied by apparently heartfelt acclaim of the people over whom he is to rule for at least four years.

Every window in every building on Pennsylvania avenue which is not occupied for office purposes was rented weeks ago for a good round sum of money. Every room overlooking the marching parade was taken by as many spectators as could find a vantage point from which to peer through the window panes. The roofs of the buildings were covered with persons willing to stand for hours in a March day to see the wonders of the inaugural parade, and many of them particularly glad of an opportunity to go home and to say that after many years waiting they had seen a Democratic president inaugurated.

The parade passed the reviewing stand of President Wilson, who stood uncovered while the marchers saluted. When the last organization had marched by dusk was coming down. The hundreds of thousands of electric lamps were lighted and Washington at night became along its main thoroughfare as bright as Washington at day. The loss of the attraction of the inaugural ball was compensated for by the finest display of fireworks, it is said, this city has ever known.

The procession was in divisions, with General Wood as the grand marshal of the whole affair and having a place at its head. The display, in the words invariably used on like occasions, was "impressive and brilliant."

Regulars in First Division. The regulars of the country's two armed service naturally had the right of way. Maj. Gen. W. W. Wotherspoon, United States army, was in command of the first division, in which marched the soldiers and sailors and marines from the posts and the navy yards within a day's ride of Washington. The West Point cadets and the midshipmen from the naval academy at Annapolis, competent beyond other corps in manual and in evolution, the future generals and admirals of the army, had place in the first division.

All branches of the army service were represented in the body of regulars—engineers, artillery, cavalry, infantry and signal corps. The sailors and marines from half a dozen battle-ships rolled along smartly in the wake of their landmen brethren.

The National Guard division followed the division of regulars. It was commanded by Brig. Gen. Albert L. Mills, United States army, who wore the medal of honor given him for conspicuous personal gallantry at the battle of San Juan hill. General Mills is the chief of the militia division of the United States war department.

The entire National Guard of New Jersey was in line, and Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Maryland, Virginia, Georgia, Maine and North Carolina were represented by bodies of civilian soldiers. Cadets from many of the private and state military schools of the country had a place in the militia division.

Veterans and Civilians. The third division of the parade was composed of Grand Army of the Republic veterans, members of the Union Veteran league and of the Spanish war organizations. Gen. James E. Stuart of Chicago, a veteran of both the Civil and the Spanish wars, was in command.

Robert N. Harper, chief marshal of the civic forces, commanded the fourth division. Under his charge were political organizations from all parts of the country, among them being Tammany, represented by 2,000 of its braves, and Democratic clubs from Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore and other cities.

They put the American Indians into the civilian division. The fact that they were in war paint and feathers helped out in picturesqueness and did nothing to disturb the peace. Members of the United Hunt Clubs of

Why Adventure Knocks So Rarely.

David Grayson, writing a new "Adventure in Contentment" in the March American Magazine, says:

"It is because we are not humble enough in the presence of the divine daily fact that adventure knocks so rarely at our door. A thousand times I have had to learn this truth (what lesson so hard to learn as the lesson of humility!), and I suppose I shall have to learn it a thousand times more. This very day, straining my eyes to see the distant wonders of the mountains, I nearly missed a miracle by the road-side."

Chronic Stomach Trouble Cured.

There is nothing more discouraging than a chronic disorder of the stomach. Is it not surprising that many suffer for years with such an ailment when a permanent cure is within their reach and may be had for a trifle? "About one year ago," says P. H. Beck, of Wakelee, Mich., "I bought a package of Chamberlain's Tablets, and since using them I have felt perfectly well. I had previously used any number of different medicines, but none of them were of any lasting benefit." For sale by all dealers. *m

"Pittsburgh Perfect" Fence

Why we use Open Hearth Wire
in Preference to all other kinds

Remember the iron wire your father and your grandfather had around the farm? Good old wire, wasn't it?

The Special Open Hearth Wire, as we make it today from our own (secret) formula, is more like the old time iron wire than that used in any other make of fence.

Made in Different Styles for FIELD, FARM, RANCH, LAWN, CHICKEN, POULTRY and RABBIT YARD and GARDEN

Ask your dealer for "Pittsburgh Perfect" and insist on his furnishing it. Do not allow him to persuade you that some other fence is just as good. If he doesn't sell it, write us direct.

"Pittsburgh Perfect" Brands of Barbed Wire, Bright, Annealed & Galvanized Wire, Twisted Cable Wire, Hard Spring Coil Wire, Fence Staples, Poultry Netting Staples, Regular Wire Nails, Galvanized Wire Nails, Large Head Roofing Nails, Single Loop Bale Ties, "Pittsburgh Perfect" Fencing. And Buy The Crittenden Record Press And Read Our Weekly Roll Of Honor.

Thomas W. Mayo, publisher of the Record, St. Anne, Ill., pens the following:

"It takes money to run a newspaper! O what an exaggeration. What a whopper. It doesn't take any money to run a newspaper. It can run without money. It is not a business venture. It is a charitable institution, a begging concern, a highway robber. The newspaper is a child of the air, a creature of a dream. It can go on and on and on, when any other concern would be in the hands of a receiver and wound up with cobwebs in the window."

"It takes wind to run a newspaper; it takes gall to run a newspaper. It takes scintillating, acrobatic imagination, half a dozen white shirts, and a railroad pass to run a newspaper. But money, heavens to Betsy and six hands around, who ever needed money to conduct a newspaper? Kind words are the medium of exchange that do business for the editor—kind words and church social tickets. When an editor has money, watch him. He'll be paying his bills and disgracing his profession. Never give money to an editor. Make him trade it out. He likes a swap."

Then when you die after you have stood around for years and sneered at the editor, his poor family and his little Jim Crow paper, be sure you have your wife send for three extra copies by one of your weeping children, and when she reads the generous and touching notice about you, forewarn her to neglect to send the editor fifteen cents. It would overwhelm him. Money is a corrupting thing. The editor knows it, and what he wants is your heartfelt thank that he can thank the printers, and they can thank the grocers. Give your job work to a traveling man, or to the local job office and then ask for half rates, to nothing for church notices. Get your lodge letter heads and stationery out of town then flood the editor with beautiful thoughts in resolutions of respect and cards of thanks. They make such spicy reading, and you are so proud of your local paper when you pick it up filled with these glowing mortuary articles.

But money—scorn the filthy thing. Don't let the pure, innocent editor know anything about it. Keep that for sordid trades people who charge for their wares. The editor gives his bounty away. The Lord loves a cheerful giver. He takes care of the editor. He has a charter from the state to act as a door mat for the community. He will get out the paper somehow; and stand up for the town and whoop it up for you when you run for office. Don't worry about the editor he'll get on. The Lord knows how—but somehow.

QUININE AND IRON—THE MOST EFFECTUAL GENERAL TONIC

Grove's Tasteless chill Tonic Combines both in Tasteless form. The Quinine drives out Malaria and the Iron builds up the System. For Adults and Children.

You know what you are taking when you take GROVE'S TASTELESS chill TONIC, recognized for 30 years throughout the South as the standard Malaria, Chill and Fever Remedy and General Strengthening Tonic. It is as strong as the strongest bitter tonic, but you do not taste the bitter because the ingredients do not dissolve in the mouth but do dissolve readily in the acids of the stomach. Guaranteed by your Druggist. We mean it. 50c.

There is Only One "BROMO QUININE" That is LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for signature of E. W. GROVE on every box. Cures a Cold in One Day. 25c.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Keeping the Body in Repair

Nature intended that the body should do its own repairing—and it would do so were it not for the fact that most of us live other than a natural life.

Nature didn't intend that we should wear corsets, tight collars or shoes, nor live in badly ventilated and draughty houses, nor eat and drink some of the things that we do, nor ride in street cars when we should walk. The consequence is that the body when it gets out of order must look for outside help to make the necessary repairs.

For weak stomachs and the indigestion or dyspepsia resulting, and the multitude of diseases following therefrom, no medicine can be more adaptable as a curative agent than DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

This famous Doctor's prescription has been recommended for over 40 years, and is today just as big a success. Restores a healthy appetite. Cleanses the blood. Strengthens the nerves. Regulates stomach and liver. Demand the original.

Delivered Splendid Sermon,

Rev. W. D. Powell, Secretary of the Baptist State Board of Missions' preached at the first Baptist church in this city last Sunday. Theme the "Cross of Christ. Text I Cor. 15:3. For as I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures.

1 The Attainment.
The Basis of all Missions, is the Cross of Christ.

2 Christ, the Mediator between God and Man, Then go and open the door of hope in this benighted land.

He dwelt on the mission cause in Mexico and China.

In his application he made a strong appeal to the large audience along the lines of Christian duty. He spoke of thirty-four laymen serving on the mission board without compensation. He very much impressed his people of the importance of State, Home and Foreign missions.

LISTENING TO AN INAUGURAL ADDRESS.

TALES OF OTHER INAUGURATIONS

Incidents That Marked the Day in Former Years.

WASHINGTON'S OATH-TAKING

New York Scene of His Induction—Story of Jefferson's Simplicity a Myth—"People's Day" When Jackson Took Office.

By E. W. PICKARD.

Woodrow Wilson is the twenty-seventh man to be inaugurated president of the United States, but the twenty-fifth to be inaugurated in Washington. George Washington took the oath of office in New York and John Adams in Philadelphia. Moreover, the Father of His Country was not inaugurated on March 4.

Arriving at Elizabethtown Point, N. J., on April 23, he entered a barge rowed by 12 pilots clad in white, and passed through the Kill von Kull into New York harbor, where he was met in a manner of craft gaily decorated and loaded with cheering crowds. The Spanish man of war Galveston broke out the colors of all nations, and fired a salute of 13 guns, to which the American frigate North Carolina responded.

Arrival at New York.

As Washington stepped ashore at Murray's wharf the guns of the Battery roared out their salute and Gov. George Clinton and many members of congress saluted the first president. He was taken to the residence of Samuel Osgood, and for an entire week there was revelry throughout the city.

Finally, on April 30, all was ready for the inauguration. Washington was escorted to Federal hall, then the capitol, which stood on the site of the present sub-treasury at Wall and Broad streets. The streets had been filled since sunrise with waiting crowds, and the enthusiasm was intense. In the senate chamber Washington was joined by Adams, Knox, Hamilton, von Steuben and a few others, and all of them appeared on the balcony. Robert R. Livingston, chancellor of New York, administered the oath and cried "Long live George Washington, president of the United States," whereupon there broke out a mighty tumult of cheering, bell-ringing and the noise of cannon. Returning to the senate chamber, President Washington read his inaugural address and the history of the United States under the constitution began.

Myth About Jefferson.

If you are a good Democrat, no doubt you believe that Thomas Jefferson rode unattended to the capitol on horseback, tied his horse to the fence, and was inaugurated with less ceremony than would attend the taking of office by a keeper of a dog pound. Such is the old story, but it is pure myth and is first found in a book of travels in the United States written by John Davis, an Englishman. Davis asserted that he was an eye-witness of the simple ceremony which he described, but it has been proved that he was not in Washington at the time.

The inauguration of Jefferson, which marked the defeat of the Federalist party of Hamilton, Washington, Adams and Jay, was the first to take place in Washington. The newly established national capital, then but a few months old, contained only 3,000 inhabitants, many of them negroes; the houses were mostly huts and the streets muddy roads. The big event was thus described in the Philadelphia Aurora of March 11, 1801:

"At an early hour on Wednesday, March 4, the city of Washington presented a spectacle of uncommon animation occasioned by the addition to its usual population of a large body of citizens from the adjacent districts. A discharge from the company of Washington artillery ushered in the day, and about one o'clock the Alexandria company of riflemen with the company of artillery paraded in front of the President's lodgings. At 12 o'clock Thomas Jefferson, attended by a number of his fellow citizens, among whom were many members of congress, repaired to the capitol. His dress was, as usual, that of a plain citizen, without any distinctive badge of office. He entered the capitol under a discharge from the artillery. As soon as he withdrew a discharge from the artillery was made. The remainder of the day was devoted to purposes of festivity, and at night there was a pretty general illumination."

Jackson Almost Mobbed.

When Andrew Jackson was elected in the fall of 1828 the people of the west and the radical elements of the south scored a triumph and he was hailed as a "man of the people." This character was emphasized on the day of his inauguration the following March, for never before had such a huge throng gathered in Washington. Jackson's wife had died not long before, and he asked that the ceremonies be made very simple, but the masses were too hilarious to heed the request. The weather was pleasant and the east front of the capitol was used for the first time for the inauguration. In front of it surged 10,000 persons who were restrained only by a great iron chain. Jackson rode to the capitol on a white horse and went through the ceremonies with dignity, and started back to the White House. Then began his troubles, for the people broke loose with a vengeance.

"The president was literally pursued by a motley concourse of people, riding, running, helter-skelter, striving who should first gain admittance into the executive mansion, where it was understood that refreshments would be distributed," wrote a contemporary, Mrs. Samuel Harrison Smith. In their mad rush the crowds smashed furniture and dishes and seized the food as if they were starving. "The confusion became more and more appalling. At one moment the president, who had retreated until he was pressed against the wall of the apartment, could only be secured against serious danger by a number of gentlemen linking arms and forming themselves into a barrier. It was then that the windows were thrown open, and the living throng found an outlet. It was the people's day, the people's president, and the people would rule."

Taken figuratively, that might not be so poor a description of the plight of presidents in these later days.

Exposure Killed Harrison.

For 12 years the Democrats controlled the destinies of the country, and then the Whigs elected William Henry Harrison, who was inaugurated March 4, 1841. By this time transportation was made easier by the building of railways and the crowd that flocked to Washington was immense. It was much better behaved than that which "honored" Jackson, but it was hungry for offices.

Cold, wintry blasts swept the streets of Washington that March day, and Harrison, already old and rather feeble, rode his white horse without cloak or overcoat, and with his hat off in salute to the cheering crowds. The line of march was unprecedentedly long, and so was the inaugural address, and then the president led the procession back to the White House. The exposure was too much for him and within one month he was dead.

Lincoln's First Inauguration.

Immensely dramatic was the first inauguration of Abraham Lincoln in 1861. From the day of his election threats against his life were numerous, and detectives discovered and foiled an organized plot to assassinate him on his way to Washington. The big bodies of troops that had been employed at former inaugurations merely to add pomp to the occasion now were used for the protection of the president. As he rode to the capitol in a carriage he was preceded by a company of sappers and miners; a double file of cavalry rode on each side, and in the rear were infantry and riflemen. On horse tops and in windows all along Pennsylvania avenue were posted riflemen.

The day had opened cloudy, chilly and dismal, but as the president stepped forward to take the oath from the aged Chief Justice Taney the sun burst through the clouds and shone full on the bowed head of the man who was to give up his life for the country he loved. Lincoln himself noticed this "sunburst" and drew from it a happy augury.

Always be Perfectly Polite to the Bees.

A very instructive and entertaining article on the "Care of Bees" appears in the current issue of "Farm and Fireside." An extract follows:

"Lastly, let the bees from your acquaintance. Let them alight on you at will. Never attempt to brush them off. They will do you no harm as long as you are gentle, slow in movement and keep out of the line of flight. Never use perfume on the clothing that you wear near the hive.

"Bees like music and are easily taught to gather at the call of certain strains, but they do not like harsh or loud voices or discordant sounds.

"An even temper is an absolute necessity. I have known a swarm to 'growl' because a loud-talking man stood near the hive."

Not Elected to Lead

Dance, Says Marshall

Washington, March 4.—Governor Marshall, who arrived here today grew positive when he learned that some of the ultra-fashionable society people of Washington were accusing him of breaking over the traditions of the vice presidential office by living rather modestly at a hotel instead of renting a mansion and preparing to entertain on a grand scale.

"I am not here to lead a german," he said. "There is nothing in the Constitution of the United States which says that the Vice President must rent a big house and entertain lavishly. The Baltimore convention knew when it nominated me that I was a poor man."

"The people of the United States knew that fact when they elected me. I am not disposed to throw down the gauntlet, but if it ever becomes necessary, do so I shall accept the jeers of those who would criticize me on this account with perfect confidence that the plain citizenship of the country will find no fault with me."

IRON HILL.

(Delayed from last week.)

E. L. Horning attended the interment of his brother, Ben F. Horning, at Shady Grove, last Friday.

T. M. Dean is sawing with his mill near Blowing Springs.

John A. Stembridge has been quite sick for several days.

We are informed that Albert H. Travis has sold his farm, known as the Clark farm, to Marion Guess, who lives on Tradewater.

M. V. Sutton and T. H. Thomason attended Robert Sutton's sale at Crayne last week.

Miss Zelma Brown will teach a spring school at Lamb's school house.

Mrs. Sarah A. Lamb received a painful injury to her arm, Sunday, from a fall.

Married Wednesday, Feb. 26. Rev. Jack Davis officiating, Miss Ila Winn to Ervin Turley; and Miss Iva Turley to Monroe Stemberge. All the contracting parties are popular and excellent young people and have the best wishes of a multitude of friends.

As is usual, when the roads get bad, that problem is being discussed—every fellow for himself, and your writer wants to have his say. We are sure it is an utter impossibility to have a good dirt road in this county during the wet, freeze and thaw seasons. So what's the use of fooling away time and money digging holes and filling them up again. It is time to put something on the roads that the rains or freeze and thaw will not disturb. For example, there was once a piece of road near here about 100 yards long that continually over flowed. The road hands tried a number of remedies, but teams continued to mire in the mud and it grew worse instead of better. Finally it occurred to Squire Hodges to ask for a small appropriation to levy and gravel the place, which was granted. The levy was made and about 5 or 6 inches of gravel placed on top—that was about six years ago, and since then that place has always been a good road and need no work whatever. We've got the rock and gravel laying around where its not needed—put it on the road where it is needed and we will have the road problem solved.

PAPER BAG COOKING

Great System Perfected by M. Soyer. Famous London Chef.

AN ENGLISH COOK'S EXPERIENCE.

By Martha McCulloch Williams.

Because I have baked in paper bags after M. Soyer's method, I give full credence to this report from England, where thousands of housewives have discarded the pot-and-pan method of cooking for the paper bag system. I may add that I have myself verified by actual demonstration most of the report. So I pass it on to my fellow housewives in full confidence of its accuracy.

"The chef," runs the report, "has cooked the following items without the use of a single dish or tin of any description, merely pouring the food into the bag, to the undisguised astonishment of every cook and housewife in the audience:

Yorkshire Pudding.
Fruit cakes in all varieties.
Puff Omelets.
Jam Turnovers.
Stewed Green Gages.
Banana Pasties.
Fruit Vol-au-vents.

"Despite the fact that no tins nor dishes whatever have been used in the cooking of the above items, the brownness, consistency, tenderness or lightness of everything, has been a revelation of perfect cookery to those who have seen or tasted the food."

The omelet, as most marvelous, deserves and shall have the place of honor. It was thus made and proportioned:

Omelet Souffle.—Work four yolks of eggs with two and a half ounces of castor sugar to a light cream. Whisk up five whites of eggs to a stiff froth and add them carefully to the creamed yolks, together with a level tablespoonful of corn flour. A few drops of vanilla essence should also be added to flavor the omelet. Have ready a well buttered bag, pour in the omelet mixtures carefully, seal and place on the grid shelf. When done place on a hot dish and remove the paper bag. Make an incision in the center of the omelet and put into it two or three spoonfuls of jam.

Here is the fruit cake cooked without a pan, inside a paper bag. It sounds not only toothsome, but festive: Take eight ounces fresh butter, eight ounces castor sugar and four new-laid eggs, and beat up well together into a thick cream. To this mixture add eight ounces best white flour, four ounces sultana raisins, four ounces dried currants and four ounces candied peel. Stir the whole mixture hard till thoroughly blended and pour into a paper bag greased very liberally with clarified butter. Seal up, then with a fork or skewer-tip prick two small holes near each corner of the bag's upper side, taking care not to prick the bottom as well. Put the loaded and pricked bag on a wire trivet and set the trivet in the oven, either on the grid-shelf or the solid bottom—the feet will save the bag from scorching. Bake for fifty-five minutes. Take out and cut into fingers when nearly cold.

Light Biscuit.—Sift well through a quart of best flour three level teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Cut fine into the sifted flour a lump of lard or butter the size of the fist. If butter is used, there is no need for salt; with lard add half a small teaspoonful measured level. Mix as quickly as possible into a soft but not sticky dough, wetting up with sweet milk. Roll half an inch thick, cut out with a small cutter, brush lightly over the tops with milk, and bake in a bag, well greased, and spread flat upon a wire mat. Put in the biscuit so they will not touch—a cake turner is handy for this. Seal up, put in a hot oven, slack heat when the bag turns brown, but not too much. Bake twelve to fifteen minutes.

CUTLETS AND STILL MORE CUTLETS.

By Nicolas Soyer, Chef of Brooks' Club, London.

Cutlets a la Paysanne.—Take four to eight cutlets, mutton or lamb. Trim them of all superfluous fat. Scrape the bone neatly. Dust them with a little minced shallot and spiced seasoning—i. e., pepper, salt, a tiny grate of nutmeg and a little celery salt mixed. Grease a bag thickly, put in the cutlets, add to them half a pint of half-cooked peas, an ounce of bacon, cut small, a pound of new potatoes and half pint of stock or water. If but four cutlets are used, a gill of stock will be sufficient. Fold over the bag, seal, put on the broiler and cook in a moderately hot oven for an hour. Open bag, empty into a very hot dish, and arrange the peas and potatoes in a border with a heated fork. Stir up the gravy and send to table. Note that the potatoes must be also parboiled before being put in the bag.

Cutlets a la Espagnol.—Take four to six cutlets. Trim as directed in the foregoing receipt. Dust them with pepper and salt. Have ready a greased bag and six ounces of freshly boiled rice. Mix with the rice plenty of tomato catsup. Place the rice in the bag, then put the cutlets on top of the rice. Fold, clip, put on broiler, and cook for half an hour in a moderately hot oven.

HIGH LIGHTS IN INAUGURALS

Of Greatest Presidents Set Beside Wilson's Own Confession Of Faith.

WASHINGTON.

"I know that as, on one side, no local prejudices, no separate views or party animosities, must misdirect the comprehensive and equal eye, which ought to watch over this great assemblage of communities and interests; so, on another the foundation of our national policy must be laid in the pure and immutable principles of private morality, and the pre-eminence of a free government be exemplified by all the attributes which can win the affections of its citizens and command the respect of the world. There exists in the economy of nature an indissoluble union between virtue and happiness and between duty and advantage."

JEFFERSON.

"Equal and exact justice to all men of whatever state or persuasion, religious or political; peace, commerce and honest friendship with all nations; the support of the State governments in all their rights; the preservation of the general government in its whole constitutional vigor; absolute acquiescence in the decisions of the majority, the vital principles of republics from which is no appeal but to force, the vital principle and immediate parent of despotism; freedom of religion, freedom of the press and the freedom of person. This road alone leads to peace, liberty and safety."

LINCOLN.

"I take the official oath today with the mental reservations and with no purpose to construe the constitution or laws by any by-pericritical rules. I plead with my dissatisfied countrymen not attempt the dissolution of the Union. We are not enemies, but friends. We must not be enemies. Though passion may have strained, it must not break our bonds of affection. The mystic chord of memory, stretching from every battlefield and patriot grave to every living heart and hearthstone all over this broad land, will yet swell the chorus of the Union, when again touched, as surely as it will be, by the better angels of our nature."

WILSON.

"At last a vision has been vouchsafed us of our life as a whole. We see the bad with the good, the debased and decadent with the sound and vital. With this vision we approach new affairs. Our duty is to cleanse, to reconsider, to restore, to correct the evil without impairing the good, to purify and humanize every process of our common life without weakening or sentimentalizing it. There has been something crude and heartless and unfeeling in haste to succeed and be great. Our thought has been that 'Every man lookout for himself; that every generation lookout for itself,' while we have reared about machinery which made it impossible that any but those who stood at the levers of control should have a chance to look out for themselves!"

CONVINCING TESTIMONY.

Given By Many Marion People.

Experiences told by Marion people—Those who have had weak kidneys—Who use Doan's Kidney Pills—Who found the remedy effective. Such statements prove merit. You might doubt an utter stranger. You must believe Marion people. Here's Marion proof. Verify it. Read Investigate. Be convinced. You'll find why Marion folks believe in Doan's.

William Redd, farmer, Marion, Ky. says: "Some time ago I gave a statement, telling of a case of kidney trouble. I had severe pain in the small of the back and it ached and felt lame in the morning upon arising. I tired very easily and was nervous at all times. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage and contained sediment. Hearing Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended, I began using them. I was helped almost at once. There has been no recurrence of my trouble, but I keep Doan's Kidney Pills on hand for emergency, if I should happen to catch cold or my kidneys need attention."

If a Hen Swallows Hog Bristles

She Gets Into Trouble.

The following is taken from the current issue of "Farm and Fireside:"

"After butchering-time we found some of our hens drooping around, combs pale, sleepy-eyed, trying to eat and giving up the job as a bad one after swallowing a few grains of corn, yet twisting their necks as though they were full of feed? We caught them and examined their crops and found them packed with hog-hair."

"With a sharp knife we made an incision in the crop, and with a button-hook we pulled out hookful after hookful until the hair had all been removed, then the incision was sewed up, and the hen got well—but several others we operated on didn't get well. "Since that time we have made it a special job to clean up the hog-hair after the day's butchering."

Look For a Boy Anywhere.

David Grayson, writing one of his new "Adventures In Contentment" in the February American Magazine, makes this observation:—

"Long ago I made a motto about boys: Look for a boy anywhere. Never be surprised when you shake a cherry-tree if a boy drops out of it; never be disturbed when you think yourself in complete solitude if you discover a boy peering out at you from a fence corner."

"I've been selling Studebaker Wagons and Buggies for over 30 years."

"I've sold them because my reputation as a dealer was at stake and from experience I have found that Studebaker means the best."

That tells the story.

Farmers bought Studebaker wagons before the Civil war and they have been buying them ever since.

Because they had confidence in the name Studebaker and in the sturdy, dependable wagons and buggies they build.

And that confidence has been upheld. Studebaker wagons are built on honor and the Studebaker guarantee goes with every one.
